CONLEY, SMITH A SPECIAL DUO

► Graduate student Peter Conley and junior Brad Smith make quite the dynamic duo as two thirds of Duke's first midfield. They both have 21 goals apiece and are two of 11 midfielders nationally to have scored at least 20 goals. Duke is the only program with two players on the list.

► Deemer Class holds the Duke single-season goals record for a midfielder with 50 in 2016 - a feat only five other midfielders in NCAA history have reached.

DANNY FOWLER SAVING BEST FOR LAST

► Returning All-ACC goaltender Danny Fowler is having his best year between the pipes. He leads the ACC and is in the top 15 nationally in both goals against average (7.66) and save percentage (.557).

► His 8.17 saves per game are third in the ACC. This is credit to Fowler's play as well as the efforts of the defense in front of him as Duke's opponents are getting just under 29 shots per game.

► Fowler's goals against average has crept under the eight mark thanks to holding Notre Dame to just two scores last weekend. His 7.66 goals against average is the lowest in his career, with the exception of sporting a 6.52 mark after the 2016 season opener against High Point. Last season heading into the game against the Cavaliers, Fowler had an 8.56 GAA.

Danny Fowler 2017 and 2018 Comparison

| Year | GAA  | SV%  |
|------|------|------|
| 2016 | 9.84 | .497 |

GUTERDING IN THE RECORD BOOKS

► Justin Guterding recently became the third Blue Devil and 13th Division I player to amass 300 career points. He currently ranks second at Duke and 11th in NCAA history in career points and is two points shy of moving into 10th in the NCAA records book. His 185 goals also are 11th in NCAA history.

► If Guterding matches his 51 goals total from 2017 - he needs 12 more - he will finish with 197, good for third in the current NCAA history book. Zack Greer is the lone player in Division I lacrosse to score 200 career goals. Guterding needs 15 more to reach the mark and 21 to tie Greer. He has 39 through 12 games and has three remaining regular season games.

► His 46 total in 2017 ranked sixth in Duke single-season history. Only Jordan Wolf, Matt Danowski and Ned Crotty have more assists in a season than Guterding.

► Guterding registered 97 points in 2017 to become the fourth different Blue Devil in program history to score 90 points in a season. His total is tied with current assistant coach Matt Danowski for second on the Duke single-season list.

► Only Jordan Wolf has scored 100 points in a season for Duke and just 15 different Division I players have reached the century mark in NCAA history 17 times - Lyle Thompson of Albany did so three times.

► Guterding is one of three Blue Devils to rank in the top 5 in school history in career points (306), goals (185) and assists (121).

STEIN IMPROVING AND EMERGING AT THE X

► Rookie faceoff specialist Joe Stein is starting to make his name as Duke's leading draw man. Since stepping up as the go-to guy against Richmond for an injured Brian Smyth, Stein has taken all but 22 of the faceoffs in the six games in which he played - he missed the Cleveland State contest due to illness - and sports a .596 success rate.

► He has won at least 50 percent of his restarts in four of the six outings, coming up just short (6-of-14, .429) at Towson and getting off to a tough 0-for-3 start at Notre Dame.

► Prior to taking the reins against the Spiders, Stein took only 18 faceoffs and won seven (.389). His .596 win percentage in the past six games would rank second in the league and 14th nationally. Currently, at .568 overall, he leads all rookies nationally, is third in the ACC and ranks 22nd in Division I.

DUKE HOLDS ONE-TWO PUNCH AT THE X

► The Blue Devils are developing a special one-two punch at the faceoff X in Brian Smyth and Joe Stein. They have combined to go 133-of-268 (.496) overall and 56 percent (85-of-152) in the past seven games.

► Smyth has taken 136 draws, winning 58 (.426), while Stein has taken 132 and won 75 (.568). The rookie Stein has been the top draw man in the recent games, but Smyth has stepped up and come on strong off the bench in Duke's previous two outings.

► Against UNC, Smyth won 4-of-5 to help the Blue Devils to the one-goal victory and spell a busy Stein who went 13-of-19 at the X. At Notre Dame, Stein struggled early, but Smyth stepped in and won 5-of-10. Duke is one of three Division I programs - Ohio State and Sacred Heart being the two others - to have two faceoff specialists who have taken at least 40 percent of the team's faceoffs and rank in the top 65, giving the Blue Devils a dual threat.

GILES-HARRIS, VAN RAAPHORST TAKEAWAY ARTISTS

► The duo of sophomore JT Giles-Harris and junior Cade Van Raaphorst at close defense is a scary sight for opposing attackmen. They lead the Blue Devils in caused turnovers with 16 and 14, respectively. Duke is the one of two ACC program to have two players ranked among the top 70 nationally in caused turnovers per game. Giles-Harris stands at 43rd (1.33) and Van Raaphorst at 70th (1.17).

JOE ROBERTSON ROOKIE IMPACT

► Rookie attackman Joe Robertson is having a strong first season for the Blue Devils, tallying 25 goals and eight assists for 33 points in his 12 games. He was named to the USILA Team of the Week following his four-goal outing in the fourth quarter against Denver.

► Robertson, averaging 2.08 goals and 2.75 points per game, is ninth in goals per game and 13th in points per game amongst Division I rookie scorers.

ROBERTSON LACROSSE FAMILY

► Lacrosse is a family affair for Duke's rookie Joe Robertson as he follows in the footsteps of his three older brothers to play Division I lacrosse. Matt, the oldest, played his final two seasons at Virginia. Ian was a Maryland Terrapin for three years and Phillip is a sophomore on the Princeton men's lacrosse team.

NCAA ACTIVE LEADERS

► Duke seniors Justin Guterding and Danny Fowler are peppered throughout the top 10 NCAA DI active leaders lists in eight categories.

ALL IN THE FAMILY FOR GILES-HARRIS

► JT's brother, Joe, is Duke football's top defensive player. He garnered four All-America awards in 2017, including second-team honors by the Walter Camp Foundation.

VAN RAAPHORST'S ATHLETIC LINEAGE

► Junior close defenseman Cade Van Raaphorst traded the football for the lacrosse stick despite hailing from a family of elite college quarterbacks.

► Cade is the son of Jeff Van Raaphorst, quarterback at Arizona State leading the Sun Devils to the Pac-10 and Rose Bowl titles in 1987. He was inducted into the Rose Bowl Hall of Fame in 2006. Jeff also played in the NFL for a few seasons.

► Uncle, Mike Van Raaphorst, was the backup quarterback to Carson Palmer at Southern California.

UP NEXT

► Duke returns home to host Marquette April 20. Faceoff is set for 7 p.m., on ACC Network Extra.

JOHN DANOWSKI

2007-P • 393-192 (35 seasons) • 174-53 at Duke (11 seasons)

Cemented as one of the top coaches in college lacrosse, John Danowski has led the Duke men's lacrosse team to unprecedented success and himself to the top over the Division I men's lacrosse wins list. Danowski was introduced as Duke's eighth head men's lacrosse coach on July 21, 2006 and quickly led the Blue Devils to some of the most successful lacrosse seasons in school history, to three NCAA Championships in five seasons.

In Danowski's 11 years at the helm of the Blue Devils lacrosse program, he has compiled an impressive 174-53 record in leading Duke to seven ACC regular season titles and four ACC tournament titles, eight straight appearances in the national semifinals from 2007-14, four in the NCAA title match and ultimately to the 2010, 2013 and 2014 national titles. The 2014 NCAA crown put Danowski, a winner of 393 career games, among a small group of nine coaches to win three national titles and among eight to capture consecutive crowns. Meanwhile, Duke's run of eight straight NCAA semifinals rank as the second most of any program since 2000 with Syracuse. Most recently, Danowski passed Dom Starsia as the winningest Division I lacrosse history, garnering his 376th win with a 13-6 victory over Jacksonville in 2017.

A winner of nearly 80 percent of his games at Duke, the individual awards Blue Devil players have garnered is equally impressive. In 11 seasons, Danowski mentored 64 All-America selections, 36 All-ACC choices, two Tewaaraton Trophy winners, a pair of USILA Attackman of the Year honorees, a USILA Defenseman of the Year, three USILA Midfielder of the Year award recipients and 21 USILA Scholar All-America picks.

While the success on the field is unsurpassed in Duke lacrosse history, the student-athletes excellence in the classroom also is unrivaled. The Blue Devils consistently lead the ACC in All-ACC Academic picks as well as players on the ACC Academic Honor Roll.
